New technology solutions offer great promise to improve our quality of support/care while reducing the health-care costs. Technology already has transformed our lives - from email to MP3 and from online shopping to cell phones. It is time for technology to transform the experience of aging. Presentation will share how technology can change our view of aging in place.

Panel Members

- Ed Dobihal, Chairman, Board of Directors—
Aging at Home, Inc.
- Molly Gavin, President CCCI
- Melissa Morton, MSW Field Representative/
Nursing Home Diversion Grant State Coordinator,
